

HOW TO IMPROVE WRITING SKILLS IN ENGLISH

MAKE A HABIT TO WRITE ENGLISH EVERYDAY

- You can do this by trying to write on your personal journal or diary, sending text messages, post on SNS and writing emails to your friends.

ASK SOMEONE TO CHECK YOUR WRITING

- Ask someone who has a knowledge about the language. If this is ignored, no improvements will take place.

IMPROVE YOUR VOCABULARY

- To do this, you can do by reading as many as you can. Remember to take notes of the new words and try to use them in a sentence.

USE DICTIONARY

- Using dictionary is not cheating as you may think, it is in fact a very reason why dictionary exist--to help us know the unknown words.

CHECK WHAT YOU HAVE WRITTEN CAREFULLY

- Read the writings after your done. This is the a good way to see your mistakes or errors you haven't noticed when you're writing it.

WRITE ABOUT DIFFERENT TOPICS

- Variation is a great idea to widen your vocabulary words and will give you an opportunity to use other words you have known.

DO YOUR ASSIGNMENTS

- This process will give you an opportunity to measure your writing skills and to use the vocabulary words you have acquired.

WRITE YOUR FRIENDS OR SOMEONE

- You can write your friends on SNS, emails, sending text messages, chatting on Skype etc. This will improve your writing as this become part of you.

WRITE A BLOG

- Writing a blog is a great way to practice your skills in writing in English. It doesn't matter if no ones read it- who knows in the future someone will.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO COMMIT MISTAKES

- The more you write and get your writings corrected, the fewer mistakes you can make. Remember that sometimes doing something is better than doing nothing.

THANK YOU!

Additional source: Bloomsberry International

